Interest

Interest is accrued daily on your GIC from the issue date up to, but not including, the maturity date. Also, interest will be paid/compounded for the leap day in a leap year.

For Scotia GICs that pay interest during their term (monthly, semi-annually or annually) the last interest payment is paid at maturity.

For GICs where interest compounds, interest can be compounded semi-annually or annually. The value of a compounded GIC is paid to you on the maturity date. The principal value is the issue amount plus any interest that has been compounded on prior anniversaries.

If the maturity date falls on a Sunday, then the term of the GIC will be extended to Monday and interest will be paid to that day. Unless specified otherwise, an interest rate mentioned in this document is an annual fixed interest rate and interest is calculated and accrued daily.
