Team Scotia Shows Love in Bain Town

A normal summery Saturday afternoon was transformed into an unforgettable fun filled party at the park when a team of Scotiabankers partnered to host the children in the Bain and Grants Town communities to 'A Celebration of Love'. For the second consecutive year, Scotiabank joined forces with Van Brown, a native of the Bahamas turned actor in Los Angles, to host a day of food, fun and entertainment dubbed "A Celebration of Love" for the children of those communities.

Creating a memorable experience, Scotiabank provided many special treats inclusive of a live show by Charlie the Yellow Bahamian. Throughout the afternoon Scotiabankers could be seen serving, playing with and entertaining the kids. The highlight of the afternoon was definitely when the Scotia Team presented the children with a specially packed Scotiabank Bright Future Kit loaded with essential school supplies. Leah Davis, Senior Manager for Marketing and Public Relations at Scotiabank stated, "Giving back to these children not only satisfies our commitment to giving back to the community that we live in and serve but is also personally rewarding and gratifying to our employees who consistently volunteer in great numbers for events like this."

"By bringing together the passion of our employees, the insight of our partners and the spirit of our communities, the Scotiabank Bright Future Program is helping to support opportunities for children and communities, building a brighter future for everyone."
