During the past 4 years Scotiabank has given donations to the National Museum Project starting in 2002. On behalf of Scotiabank, Country Manager Dimitrios Adamopoulos, Commercial Banking Manager Andreas Dickson and Personal Banking Manager Pamela Herbert-Daniel presented a Cheque of $10,000 to this project.

The funds have been used in the restoration of the building and in particular the rehabilitation of this room as a Work/Training/storage Facility. The large board-room table, purchased from Island Hopper at a much discounted price as a contribution to the Museum, was also recently donated along with the executive chairs around it.

The generosity of Scotiabank and its recognition of the important role the National Museum have to play in the development of our country and the tourism product is much appreciated and will hopefully serve as an example to all others (i.e. the public, corporate community, etc)

Country Manager said Scotiabank is part of the community and regardless of the amount of money donated by an individual or organization to any institution, the most important aspect of the gesture is commitment.

The National Museum Committee is most grateful for these contributions and sincerely thanks Scotiabank.
