SCOTIABANK HELPS CREATE CRICKET FEVER AT SAN JUAN PRESBYTERIAN SCHOOL

Scotiabank Trinidad and Tobago Limited, an official regional sponsor of the ICC Cricket World Cup 2007, has added some cricket excitement at the San Juan Presbyterian School.

The school's principal Mr. Clifford Gyan recently approached the Bank to lend assistance for a project being undertaken by the students surrounding the upcoming cricket event. Scotiabank has traditionally worked closely with primary schools throughout Trinidad and Tobago and has even developed a teaching manual which incorporates elements of cricket into the school curriculum that assists children in learning the rudiments of the game.

As the official bank of West Indies Cricket and official sponsor of Kiddy Cricket, the Bank was eager to donate to the school several cricket items to help the children with their project, including Kiddy Cricket Copybooks, Cricket themed puzzles, cricket floor mats, posters and flyers. The public can look out for Scotiabank's Kiddy Cricket Skills Display which will take place on Thursday 15th March during the lunch break of the Sri Lanka versus Bermuda game.
