

Scotiabank

Scotia Mortgage / Line of Credit Protection Claim Package

Important:

Before submitting your claim for consideration, please refer to your Scotia Mortgage or Scotia Line of Credit Protection Certificate of Insurance which outlines the policy provisions, limitations and restrictions.

- Please ensure ALL documents are fully completed for the type of Scotia Mortgage or Scotia Line of Credit Protection benefit you are claiming. Missing documents may delay the assessment of your claim.

For Life claims: Please note a completed Attending Physician's Statement is required in addition to a copy of the Proof of Death certificate. This is required to establish the cause of death. A copy of a Coroner's report can also be provided.

For Terminal Illness claims: Please note a Terminal Illness is an illness that has been determined by a Doctor in writing to likely result in death within one year of the diagnosis date.

For Critical Illness claims: Please ensure your physician has included with the Attending Physician's Statement the medical reports and test results that are required to support the diagnosis and date diagnosed. The Attending Physician's Statement outlines the required documents.

For Disability claims: Please note that if your claim is beyond the 150 day submission period, you may be required to provide at your own expense additional medical reports to support the period of disability. In such cases, we suggest submitting your Attending Physician's Statement, along with copies of your medical chart records that are dated throughout the period of time you are claiming benefits. If insured with another disability carrier, providing a copy of your claim file may be sufficient to support your period of claim. For Disability benefits, if approved, benefits are payable to Scotiabank and become due following a 60 day qualifying period starting on the first loan payment due date following the end of your qualifying period. The claim payment will be pro-rated if a Disability benefit is payable for a portion of a regular payment. No benefits are payable for the qualifying period. Frequency of payment is based upon your regular Mortgage account payment due date or your regular monthly payment due date for Lines of Credit. There is a 24 month maximum benefit for any one period of disability and a 48 month lifetime maximum.

- For Life and Terminal Illness claims, if approved, the benefit is a lump sum benefit payable to Scotiabank once the claim assessment is complete.
- Upon receipt of the initial claim forms and initial review, Canada Life will advise you in writing of your claim status and/or if any additional information is required to complete the claim assessment.
- Until a claims decision has been reached, you are responsible for maintaining the required payments with Scotiabank.
- The completed claim package, required medical documents and the Financial Loan Statement provided to you by the bank can be forwarded to:
